"India is becoming a global hub for nutraceutical and cosmeceutical innovation"

Exclusive Interview | Dr. M.A. Chandniwala, CMD & CEO, Influx Healthtech Ltd.

Recently listed on the NSE Emerge platform, Influx Healthtech Ltd is emerging as a key player in India's fast-growing nutraceutical and cosmetic manufacturing industry. The company operates as a CDMO (Contract Development and Manufacturing Organization) in Maharashtra and has office in Mumbai and factories in Palghar and offers a wide range of manufacturing services — Functional Health Supplements to skincare serums and cosmeceutical products.

In this exclusive interview, Dr. M. A. Chandniwala, CMD & CEO of Influx Healthtech Ltd, shares insights into India's booming wellness and beauty sectors, the future of cosmeceuticals, and how Influx is empowering entrepreneurs to build their own brands.

India's cosmeceutical segment is seeing explosive growth. Consumers are shifting toward dermatologically tested, science-backed, and functional beauty products.

Congratulations on Influx Healthtech's recent listing on NSE Emerge! How does it feel to take this next step in the company's journey?

Thank you! Listing on the NSE Emerge platform marks a major milestone for us. It's not just a validation of our consistent growth, but also a gateway to expanding our footprint across India and internationally. It enables greater transparency, brand visibility, and investor confidence as we move forward with expansion plans.

Tell us about the core operations of Influx Healthtech Ltd. Influx is a specialized CDMO involved in the manufacturing of nutraceutical and cosmetic products. We produce everything from tablets, capsules, soft gels, powders, and liquid-filled capsules to cosmetic items like creams, serums, cleansers, and lotions. Our services cover R&D, formulation development, packaging, and regulatory support, enabling clients to launch products under their own brand name.

India's skincare and haircare (cosmeceutical) market is growing rapidly. What trends are you seeing?

Indeed, India's cosmeceutical sector is experiencing rapid and explosive growth. Consumers are shifting toward dermatologically tested, science-backed, and functional beauty products. Ingredients like niacinamide, hyaluronic acid, peptides, and plant-based actives are gaining popularity. There's also a rising preference for personalized skincare and clean beauty formats.

Are global brands looking at India as a manufacturing destination?

Absolutely, India is now seen as a cost-efficient, quality-assured, and innovation-friendly manufacturing base. Our certifications — including FSSAI 22000 by NSF and NAFDAC registration for Nigeria — make us a trusted partner for global clients.

How can an entrepreneur start their own nutraceutical or cosmetic brand in India?

It's easier than ever! You don't need your own factory. With a CDMO partner like us, you can:

Choose your formulation, get support with regulatory and packaging. Brand it under your own label.

We take care of everything from formulation to delivery, so you can focus on marketing and distribution.

What does Influx offer to new and emerging brands? We offer:

Custom and private label manufacturing, economical batch size and scalable production

In-house formulation development and regulatory support End-to-end guidance including packaging, custom designing, and FSSAI & FDA compliance

Do you also support export-focused brands?

Yes. Our products are exported to several countries. With certifications like FSSAI 22000 and NAFDAC, we enable clients to launch globally compliant products that meet high international standards.

What makes Influx different from other manufacturers?

We can offer diverse product range under one roof, In-house R&D team, Strong focus on production, Proven track record of client success stories, Ability to scale with client demand while maintaining agility

Lastly, what message do you have for new entrepreneurs looking to enter this space?

This is the perfect time. Health, beauty, and wellness are no longer luxuries—they're daily essentials. If you have a product idea or a brand vision, let us help you bring it to life. Influx Healthtech is here to be your trusted manufacturing and innovation partner every step of the way.
